1. Meeting Sessions. We will meet in Charney 205 every Tuesday and Thursday, 9am to 10:15am, from August 15, 2023 to November 21, 2023, except October 10 (Fall Break). Our in-person sessions will strictly adhere to any university-mandated COVID protocols, including mask mandates (I take extra COVID precautions because my wife is immunocompromised).

2. Attendance. Your attendance is critical to your success in the course, plus your peers can’t learn from you if you’re not around. As a result, I expect 100% attendance. Students who achieve that will get a small prize. I will circulate a sign-in sheet each session; make sure you sign it. Because life is uncertain, you have 5 “free passes” to cover unexcused absences. You don’t need to let me know when you’re using a free pass. Any additional unexcused absence will have significant adverse consequences on your course grade.

3. Course TA. Jess Miers is the course TA. She will host optional in-person office hours immediately after each class from 10:15am to 11:15am at the Sidebar Cafe. You can schedule individual appointments with Jess at https://calendly.com/jess-progresschamber/internet-law-office-hours-w-jess-spring-2022. Jess’ email: jess@progresschamber.org.

4. Book. You can download the book PDF for free in Camino. If you want a printed version, you can buy a softcover version ($20) or hardcover version ($28).

5. Office Hours. I am usually on campus 9am-7pm every weekday, and I’m happy to schedule a meeting at your convenience. Email me some proposed meeting times. I generally prefer outdoor masked or virtual meetings.

6. Course Learning Objectives.

- Learn the basic nomenclature and concepts of Internet technology.
- Understand Internet exceptionalism and some arguments for and against it.
- Learn the basic nomenclature and doctrinal principles of Internet law.
- Practice brainstorming legal and non-legal options to business problems and evaluating the pros/cons of those options.
- Practice writing about Internet law topics in different formats.
- Consider the conceptual and practical dilemmas that arise when applying laws to rapidly developing technologies, and develop practical ways to cope with these dilemmas.

The following disclosures are derived from https://www.scu.edu/provost/faculty-affairs/other-policies-procedures/teaching-expectations/.

I emphasize that the California legislature has made me a MANDATORY REPORTER of any incidents (that you mention to me or I see) of sexual harassment, including sexual battery, sexual violence, and sexual exploitation, as well as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, visual, or physical conduct of a sexual nature—whether the incident happened at SCU or elsewhere.

Academic Integrity
The Academic Integrity pledge, which applies to all students, states:

I am committed to being a person of integrity. I pledge, as a member of the Santa Clara University community, to abide by and uphold the standards of academic integrity contained in the Student Conduct Code.

I expect you to uphold the principles of this pledge for all work in this class and to comply with the law school’s Academic Integrity Policy. If you have questions about what is appropriate on any assignment, please let me know before you hand in work. You must obtain my written pre-approval before you submit any work prepared, in whole or in part, using AI chatbots/authoring tools like ChatGPT.

For more resources about ensuring academic integrity in your work, see https://libguides.scu.edu/academic-integrity and www.scu.edu/academic-integrity.

Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Misconduct (Title IX)
Santa Clara University is committed to providing all students with a safe learning environment free of all forms of discrimination, sexual harassment, and sexual violence.

As a faculty member, California law SB 493 requires me to report any information brought to my attention about incidents of sexual harassment or misconduct to the SCU Equal Opportunity and Title IX Office, (408) 551-3043. This includes, but is not limited to, disclosures in writing assignments, class discussions, and one-on-one conversations.

Should you need support, SCU has dedicated staff trained to assist you in navigating campus resources, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, helping with legal protective orders, and filing a formal complaint with the University or with law enforcement. Please see the Student Resources page for more information about reporting options and resources.
If you, or someone you know, has experienced sexual harassment or sexual violence and wish to speak to a confidential resource who is not required to report, please contact one of the following SCU resources for support:

- SCU Wellness Center
- CAPS
- Any individual (e.g., clergy and counselors) acting in a professional capacity for which confidentiality is mandated by law

I am happy to help connect you with any of these resources.

Accommodations for Pregnant and Parenting Students
Santa Clara University does not discriminate against any student on the basis of pregnancy or related medical conditions. Absences due to medical conditions relating to pregnancy and childbirth will be excused for as long as deemed medically necessary by a student’s doctor, and students will be given the opportunity to make up missed work. Students needing accommodations can often arrange accommodations by working directly with their instructors, supervisors, or departments. Students needing accommodations can also seek assistance with accommodations from the Office of Accessible Education (OAE) or from the Office of Equal Opportunity and Title IX Office. More information for students and faculty regarding pregnancy rights: https://www.scu.edu/title-ix/resources/pregnancy.

Office of Accessible Education
If you have a documented disability for which accommodations may be required in this class, please contact the Office of Accessible Education, oae@scu.edu, http://www.scu.edu/oae, as soon as possible to discuss your needs and register for accommodations with the University.

Due to the law school’s anonymous grading format, please do not disclose any accommodation to me directly. The Office of Accessible Education will contact me as needed. If you have already arranged accommodations through OAE, please schedule an appointment to discuss your accommodations with Senior Assistant Dean for Student Services Nicole Maxwell (nmaxwell@scu.edu). To ensure fairness and consistency, the law school must receive verification from the Office of Accessible Education before providing accommodations.

Safety Measures
To the extent required by the university, I expect everyone to adhere to current university mask mandates at all times; to make their best attempt to make themselves heard when asking questions or contributing to discussions; and refrain from eating or drinking in class. It is expected that everyone will follow university guidelines about health and public safety measures outlined at https://www.scu.edu/preparedscu/health-and-safety/.

Use of Classroom Recordings
The Student Conduct Code says: “Dissemination or sharing of any classroom recording without the permission of the instructor would be considered ‘misuse’ and, therefore, prohibited. Violations of these policies may result in disciplinary action by the University. At the instructor’s discretion, violations may also have an adverse effect on the student’s grade.”

Respect for Diversity
It is my intent that students from all diverse backgrounds and perspectives be well served by this course, that students’ learning needs be addressed both in and out of class, and that the diversity that students bring to this class be viewed as a resource, strength, and benefit. It is my intent to present materials and activities that are respectful of diversity: gender, sexuality, disability, age, socioeconomic status, ethnicity, race, religion, and culture. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me. For more on personal pronouns, see https://pronouns.org/.

Wellness Statement
I know you will do the best you can in this class (and all of your classes); however, it should never be at the expense of your own mental health, physical health, or well-being. Jesuit education is grounded in cura personalis, concern for the whole person—mind, body, and spirit. What does this mean for you? Be kind to others, and more importantly, be kind to yourself. Attend to your sleep (quantity and quality); drink lots of water; move; get outside; and pay attention to beauty that isn’t coming to you on a screen. Eat good food; laugh; enjoy friends and family; look for opportunities to connect with others in new ways; pray, meditate, or otherwise attend to your spirit. And ask for help, even if you don’t think you need it. Lots of folks, including me, are here to support you. It’s never too late to reach out, and I am committed to helping you.

SCU has many resources and programs to support you. These resources may be especially helpful:

- Wellness Center: https://www.scu.edu/wellness/. The Wellness Center provides resources to aid and promote student well-being across the eight dimensions of wellness, including student peer groups for healthful living, violence prevention, and recovery.
- CAPS: https://www.scu.edu/cowell/caps/. Santa Clara students are provided confidential counseling sessions at no cost through Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS). Students have access to clinically appropriate, short-term therapy; group therapy; and other resources for care. A 24/7 support line is also available: 408-554-5220.
- SCU Culture of Care: https://www.scu.edu/osl/culture-of-care/. If you are concerned for the mental or physical welfare of one of your peers, the Office of Student Life Culture of Care website provides resources for recognizing and helping someone in distress.
- Academic Concerns. If you are concerned with your progress in this class, please contact me so that we can find solutions together.
